A NANA ABA ANAMOAH CREATION

YOU ARE WELCOME

NANA ABA ANAMOAH
FOUNDER, WOMEN OF VALOUR (WOV)

From breaking glass ceilings to challenging societal norms, we keep pushing boundaries and redefine what it means to be strong, courageous, and capable.

But our journey is far from over. We stand at the precipice of a new era, where the voices and contributions of women are more important than ever.

If we are not doing it already, let us engage in meaningful conversations, challenge our perspectives, and celebrate the achievements of the incredible women around us. We must always remember that we are stronger when we uplift and support each other.

To our esteemed speakers, Shirley, Bonang and Rita thank you for responding so quickly to my requests. I still remember Shirley saying, "I can never say No to you." That means the world to me.

To Bonang and Rita, thanks for the quick and positive responses in your IG DMs. These 3 ladies are like tea bags, you never know how strong they are until you put them in hot water. They've been brewing some serious strength on, off and behind the screens for a long time.

Sika Goka and Obuobia Darko-Opoku, as long as this event exists, you two are not allowed to travel on 7th March any year. Thank you for your support.

The insights from the women you'll be listening to today will ignite sparks of inspiration within each of us, and I have no doubt that their words and courageous stories will resonate long after this event concludes.

At this point I'd like to thank my sponsors for believing in this platform: Chango, MTN, Ghana Report, Zenith Bank, Vaseline, Binance, Compassion International, The SknPod, Verna water, Beautiful beneath, Oh my hair, Office and Co., Ignite, SG Etiquette Coach, Kiari realty, Colour max, Premier 369, Alliance Media, DDP Outdoor, My party place, Phirst class solutions, Kare Beauty Spa, Zynk cosmetics, Goba kente, Image bloom, Stunners, Glam brushes, Aligina and Wella dazzles. As you're all aware, we do not charge gate fees for this event so thank you for footing the bills.

Further gratitude goes to the media for as usual promoting the event more than I deserve. We couldn't have made it without you.

I am grateful to my team - Philippa Bentuma Arthur, Mary Anita Amoah, Sarah Kwayisibea Kumi, Wilhelmina Naa Deede Tettey, and Frank Owusu-Ansah for their efficiency and attention to detail.

To my hosts, Serwaa Amihere and Natalie Fort, thanks for making life easy.

And a special applause to women of valour junior clan - Blessing, Saida, Nana Ama, Nadima, Vanessa and Jennifer. You are awesome.

Lastly, I want to express my gratitude to each and every one of you for being here today. Your presence is a testament to our commitment to push for a more equitable and inclusive world. I am truly honoured to be a part of this community of trailblazers, and I cannot wait to witness the impact we will collectively make.

Let us embark on this incredible journey together, celebrating the past, embracing the present, and shaping a future where women of valour are recognized, celebrated, and empowered.

They say women are from Venus, but I think we're actually from a galaxy far, far away. We have the power to create life, juggle a million things, and still find time to binge-watch our favourite shows.

If you are ever in doubt about how far you can go, drink water and ask yourself, what would a woman of Valour do?

Happy International Women's day.

NAA DEDEI TETTEY

Naa Dedei Tettey isn't just the articulate spokesperson for Women of Valour; she's a powerhouse in Ghanaian media. Balancing roles as Deputy News Editor, producer, and anchor, her voice resonates across both radio and television. Listeners tune in to her on Accra's vibrant Starr FM and viewers see her on GHOne TV, both under the EIB network.

Naa Dedei's artistry extends beyond news reporting. Her exceptional voice transcends journalism, captivating audiences as a skilled voice-over artist. Whether narrating documentaries or lending her unique inflection to commercials, she effortlessly commands attention.

Academically, Naa Dedei holds a Bachelor's degree, weaving together the insightful perspectives of Sociology and French.

When she's not immersed in the news world, she finds solace in music and its diverse genres. And if life had taken a different turn? Well, her passion for storytelling would have shone through another medium - the stage. Acting, she reveals, would have been her alternative calling.

Naa Dedei Tettey isn't just a journalist or broadcaster; she's a woman of many talents, enriching the Ghanaian media landscape with her voice, dedication, and multifaceted artistry. Her advocacy work with Women of Valour further underscores her commitment to making a difference.

SHIRLEY
FRIMPONG MANSO

With a background in directing, writing, presenting, producing, and event organisation, Shirley Nana Akua Frimpong - Manso brings to African Cinema a rich and varied experience. Shirley joined the media and entertainment industry in Ghana right after completing her advance level education at Mfantsiman Girls Secondary School at age nineteen. During this time Shirley presented programmes on Radio Gold, TV3, Metro TV and GTV respectively. She also anchored live events such as Miss Ghana and various corporate and State events.

She later graduated with first class honours in BFA at the National Film and Television Institute majoring in Film Directing. She formed Sparrow Productions in November 2003 while still in school and hired a collective of talented and creative minds. Shirley has written, produced and directed several widely acclaimed movies including award winning films like 'THE PERFECT PICTURE', 'A STING IN A TALE', 'CONTRACT' and the first ever cinema series on the continent 'ADAMS APPLES'. Her recent film collaboration with other producers from Nigeria and Sweden is receiving major international recognition.

POTATO POTAHTO is a romantic comedy which had its world premiere at the Cannes Film Festival 2017 and has since been accepted to screen at the Durban Film Festival in South Africa, Silicon Valley African Film Festival and The British Urban Film Festival (BUFF). Two of her recent films can be seen on NETFLIX. The Perfect Picture and Potato Potahto. Shirley's aim is to tell progressive African stories and push boundaries using a touch of realism.

RITA DOMINIC

Undisputedly one of Africa's biggest movie stars, CNN describes Rita Dominic as a "Silver screen icon, embodying a range of colourful characters". For redefining her long-term career, and for attaining both critical and commercial success, Pulse NG named Rita Dominic Actress of the Decade in 2019.

One of the continent's most recognizable faces, this year marks her 25th year working in Nigeria's burgeoning film industry. Ms. Dominic is acclaimed for her ability to thoroughly embody characters and continues to receive critical acclaim for her portrayal of iconic roles. In the past decade, Rita received numerous accolades becoming the first actress to have won the AMVCA best actress award in both the drama and comedy categories for Mildred Okwo's The Meeting and Izu Ojukwu's 76. She started off the decade by acting in and co-producing the multiple award-winning film "The Meeting".

Next, she featured in Kenyan film Shattered for which she won 2 more prestigious acting awards from Africa Movie Academy Awards (AMAA) and East Africa's Kalasha Awards becoming the first West African to receive that award. As a Producer, Rita was the first-ever recipient of the Africa Magic Viewers Choice New Era Award in 2014. This award recognizes people who have blazed new trails in multiple areas of filmmaking. She is Co-Founder of The Audrey Silva Company, a leading Film Company.

Rita over the years has built a much admired and inspirational brand. She has represented many brands including but not limited to Nokia, Glo Mobile, Key Stone Bank, Zaron Cosmetics, and Intra Africa Trade Fair. She is currently the brand ambassador for LG Home appliances and RAC. This screen siren considers acting her foremost priority and strives to always give her all to the creative arts. Rita's latest film La Femme Anjola received numerous nominations including an AMAA nomination for Best Actress.

The youngest of four children, she was born into the Royal Waturuocha family of Aboh Mbaise in Imo State, Rita started acting in local television dramas at the age of 5. She graduated from the University of Port Harcourt with a BA in Theatre Arts and joined the Nigerian film industry in 1998.

SIKA GOKA

Sika Goka is a Certified Etiquette Coach who received her training from The British School of Etiquette in the UK. As part of her accreditation, she is also certified by The Institute of Leadership Management (ILM), City and Guilds. She has a BA in Business Studies from Buckinghamshire Chilterns University, UK.

Sika has more than a decade experience in the banking sector, having worked in various roles within retail banking, mortgage services, and as Branch Manager with Barclays Bank, UK, and Head of Customer Services with Fidelity Bank Ghana. She is currently the Chief Operations Officer for R and R Luxury limited Ghana.

She has also worked in finance and administration within the e-learning sector, having established the Pitman Franchise in Ghana in her capacity as Managing Director.

Her passion for causes, has led her to contribute to several organisations including GET (Global Emerging Pathogens Treatment Consortium), an organisation which was established to advocate for the early detection, treatment, but ultimately prevention of endemic viruses such as Ebola, where she was Head of Fundraising. She also serves on the board of Forty Lives, an NGO concerned with supporting the cause of mental health in Ghana.

Two roles which she held, namely Head of Customers Services at Fidelity Bank Ghana and General Manager of Escapade Restaurant Ghana gave her the final impetus to establish her Etiquette School, a passion she has always held.

The use of and need for the highest levels of hospitality, combined with her love of manners, and her acute social skills, led her to impart some valuable professional and life skills to the teams in those institutions and she wanted to offer this same service on a wider scale to young students, professionals, career climbers, and those that work in the hospitality sector across the country.

Sika contributes a wealth of varied experiences in senior management roles which makes her content and style of coaching unique and customisable to her clients.
